Poetry.

UP IN THE BARN.

BY THOMAS LACKLAND.

Old farmer Joe steps through the doors
As wide to him as gates of Thebes:
And thoughtful walks about the floors
Whereon are piled his Winter stores,
And counts the profit of his glebes.

Ten tons of timothy up there,
And four of clover in the bay;
Red top that's cut, well middlin' fair,
And bins of roots, oblong and square,
To help eke out the crops of hay.

A dozen head of cattle stand
Reflecting in the leaf strewn yard;
And stalks are stacked on every hand,
The latest offering of the land
To labor long maintained and hard.

Cart loads of pumpkins yonder lie—
The horse is feeding in his stall,
The oats are bundled scaffold high,
And peas and beans are heaped hard by,
As if there were some festival.

At length Old Farmer Joe sits down—
A patch across each of his knees;
He crowds his hat back on his crown,
Then claps his hands—so hard and brown—
And, like a farmer takes his ease.

"How fast the years do go!"
"It seems, in fact, but yesterday,
That in this very barn, we three—
David, Ezekiel and me—
Pitched in the Summer loads of hay!

David—he sails his clipper now;
And 'Zekiel died in Mexico—
Some one must stay and ride to plough,
Get up the horse and milk the cow—
And who, of course, but little Joe!

I might have been—I can't tell what!
Who knows about it till he tries?
I might have settled in some spot,
Where money is more easy got;
Perhaps beneath Pacific's skies.

I might have preached like Parson Jones;
Or got a living at the law;
I might have gone to Congress sure;
I might have kept a Water Cure;
I might have gone and been—oh, pshaw!

Far better is it as it is;
What future waits him, no man knows;
What he has got, that sure, is his;
It makes no odds if stocks have riz,
Or politicians come to blows!

Content is rich and somethin' more—
I think I've heard somebody say;
If it rains, it's apt to pour;
And I am rich on the barn floor,
Where all is mine that I can raize.

I've ploughed and mowed this dear old farm,
Till not a rod but what I know;
I've kept the old folks snug and warm—
And lived without a twinge of harm—
I don't care how the storm might blow.

And on this same old farm I'll stay,
And raise my cattle and my corn;
Here shall these hairs turn wholly gray;
These feet shall never learn to stray;
But I will die where I was born."

And Farmer Joe pulled down his hat,
And stood upon his feet once more;
He would not argue, after that,
But, like a born aristocrat,
Kept on his walk about the floor.

REPUDIATION IN DISGUISE.

Immediately upon the organization of the Federal Government the men and mind of the country had a doubtful conflict to wage with the mob and its demagogues. The Revolution had left a debt upon the people, as great relatively to their resources as the debt of the late rebellion is to us, and our existing means for meeting it. But it was not only the amount of the debt of Independence, like the amount of our present burden, which, in Washington's phrase, was "terrible;" but its character or claims were held to be questionable. It had been contracted at war prices; some of it at continental money prices, and the certificates or evidences had passed from the hand of the original or "meritorious" holders into those of capialists, who had purchasd them at enormous rates of discount. Out of these indisputable facts a plausible sophistry was able to build a theory of repudiation fit for popular presentment; just as a popular murder gets itself softened down to justifiable homicide, when the victim is odious and the slayer is the exponent of popular passion. Nor was legal authority wanting in support of resistance to the odious imposition. No part of the debt had been funded, or assumed by the new Government. It had all been in a round of exchange, a sort of lumbering currency, transferred from the hands of the necessitous of those who had more means, and faith enough in its ultimate redemption, to offer anything for it, and—must the shameful story be told? Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State, gave Washington his official opinion that choses in action were not negotiable under the common law. For our own protection, and to render Mr. Jefferson the exactest and severest justice, we quote his own words: "By the common law of England the conveyance of a right to a debt, whereof the party is not in possession, is not only void, but severely punishable under the laws of maintenance and champerty;" adding that bills of exchange under the law merchant, and notes and bonds, were the only exceptions to the general rule that in all other cases assignments were void; and that the debts of the soldiers not having been put into either of these forms, were void.

The exact point at issue is worth stating, for we are threatened with a rehearsal of this great controversy. The soldier, said the repudiators, who has shed his blood and risked his life, and the victalar who has credited the sustenance of the army to Congress and to the States, have a merit in their claims which the broker of their certificates cannot claim; and the nation was almost bullied into the repudiation of all domestic debt which was not still in the hands of the first holders.

Hamilton insisted that "to cary the risks of parties; to supersede the contracts between them; to take away a right to a specific thing, are not less violations of property than direct confiscation." His whole argument went broadside through Jefferson's cabinet opinion, and it triumphed. Even Jefferson himself afterwards assented to the funding of the entire debt of the country at contract prices, in whatsoever hands, and irrespective of all the pretended equities against even the most obnoxious classes of it; and yet, Hamilton to the day of his death never got rid of this offense against the prejudices of the populace, excited by the success with which he vindicated the credit, and, resultingly, the true permanent interests of the nation. Are we to have this chapter of our history over again? and shall we find men enough, and they great enough, for a similar sacrifice in the hour of trial? Will there be somebody, whom this people must hear, to tell them as Hamilton told their fathers, "that besides the motives of political expediency, there are arguments that rest on the immutable principles of moral obligation; and in proportion as the mind is disposed to contemplate, in the order of Providence, an ultimate connection between public virtue and public happiness, will be its repugnance to a violation of those principles."

We have now an enormous debt, and oppressive tax to provide for its interest and for current government expenses. The evidences of this debt must, in the nature of things, work their way into the hands of those who have capital to invest at interest. They were bought for greenbacks at greater or less rates of depreciation, but the least very considerable; these bonds must rise to the par of gold if their credit and value are not impeached, and then we shall have some men who do not know any better, and not a few who intend the worst, to raise the cry either of payment in a depreciated currency, a forced reduction of the rate of interest, or total repudiation, for peace has dangers as great as war. A national debt is not a national blessing, but it need not be a national curse. The vigorous endurance of a burden strengthens the bearer; the dishonorable abandonment of a duty paralyzes the recreant. There is no burden so heavy as a nation's shame, and no abuse of reason so shabby and disgraceful as an attempt to justify it—to employ law and equity in the revolting service of dishonesty. The best that we can wish for the advocates of repudiation, in any form or degree, or under any name, is the submission of Jefferson; and the worst, that they shall all stand with him in the pillory of history to warn the next generation against the folly and weakness and political sin that they are committing.

In the first year of Washington's administration the Government was not able to pay a dollar of its matured debt, or of the accrued and accruing interest upon any of its obligations, but its god-fathers, who stood sponsors for the political instruction of the infant nation, boldly undertook for it that it would maintain the faith pledged in its name, and from that day it grew in grace and favor with God and man. "We have them for an ensample."—National American.

IMPUDENCE.

If impudence were a virtue, and the possession of one virtue, in an extraordinary edgree, would make one virtuous, then might we speak of the virtuous Democracy.

Democracy and Impudence, in these days are synonymous.

So great is their impudence, we can compare it with nothing but their ignorance.

Their claims to purity—their professions of devotion to country—their reverence for the Constitution—their love for the soldier—and their profession of patriotism—are all the boldest impudence.

After four years struggle to overthrow the government, wherein they failed not from want of will, but want of power—they ask at once to be restored to the control of that government.

After a revolutionary attempt to overthrow the authority of the Constitution, they claim to be pear excellence, its friends, and charge those who saved it from general ruin, with being its enemies.

With their hands yet red with the blood of loyal men, and their mouths, yet foul with their praises of traitors, and their hearts yet black with sympathy for rebels, they ask the survivors of Belle Isle and Andersonville to aid them in their attempt to get into power.

With a record yet fresh in our memories of their resistance to drafts, of words of comfort sent to our enemies, of rejoicing at rebel victories, and of slanderous, abusive epithets, (as, "murderers," "thieves," "hirelings," &c.,) heaped upon our soldiers—they now turn to those whose loss they then counted their gain, and ask them to vote for their traitorous leaders, as the true friends of the soldier.

With the facts recorded in history that our immense public debt was occasioned by their resistance to the laws of the country—by their persistent opposition to the authority of the government—and by their efforts to depreciate the credit of the nation—they charge the blame for this burden upon those who defeated their attempts to overthrow the authority of the government and bankrupt the nation.

With hands, hearts and souls black with treason—they scorn the thought of loyal men, whose skins are black, being allowed an equal voice with them in the government.

With the vilest of the vile, (town or cities) and the most illiterate of the ignorant, in their ranks, they protest against the blacks voting, on account of their ignorance!

Impudence! Impudence! Great is Impudence!

"As impudent as the "devil," is a phrase that loses but little of its roughness, and none of its force, by the substitution of "democracy" for "devil."—Tiffin Tribune.

He Won't Do.

The Louisville Courier recently proposed General Sherman as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The La Crosse Democrat, edited by Brick Pomeroy, thinks he won't do for that important position, and remonstrates in the following forcible language.

"And such a candidate! Sherman—William Tecumseh Sherman—Vandal Sherman, prince of a band of bummers, thieves, vagabonds and ruffians—Sherman whose "march to the sea" would have dammed to all eternity a legion of pirates and freebooters—Sherman, the lackey, tool lieutenant of the Sangamon brother of the devil, the obcene brutal and beorish Lincoln—Sherman whose hands are red with the blood of thousands of American freemen—Sherman, whose most glorious acts can be written in two words—"Atlanta" and "Columbia."

"This mushroom of civil war, blood-watered, rank, the corruption and wickedness engendered in the hellish crusade for the enslavement and degredation of white men, and the triumph of niggers—this thing a Democratic candidate for the honors which as a party, we have conferred upon Jefferson Madison, Jackson, Van Buren, Pierce and Buchanan? Proposed by a Kentuckian, from a Sovereignty thousands of whose sons rest in unhallowed graves, slain for the love of liberty by Sherman's minions? Great God! that a Democrat should so disgrace himself and humiliate the grand old party!"

A Plain Statement.

The rebel papers of Virginia as well as the Copperhead papers of the North, make a great ado because the freedmen of that State voted almost solid against the whites. One of the freedmen, in defence of his race, writes to the New York Tribune giving very clear reasons why they so voted. He says they were compelled by a sense of duty "to vote in solid phalanx against the whites." As it seemed to the blacks that the question on which they were voting was whether they should ever have the chance to vote again, it was absolutely impossible that they should vote away their own right to vote. He predicts that as soon as the question of their right to vote is settled, which will be done by the ratifying of the Constitution to be adopted by the Convention, the black vote of Virginia will be as diversified as the white on all questions of State and National policy. The blacks not only believe but ardently pray that after the Constitution is formed, securing their rights, the blacks may never again be obliged to vote as a party together, or against the whites. This is certainly a clear statement of the case, and it cannot be wondered at that the freedmen of Virginia voted in the manner in which they did.

THE Louisville Democrat says: "We know positively that there does exist in the breasts of Secessionists and Southern sympathizers a violent and personal hostility to Union men. We know that they consider they have a revenge to wreak upon those who were for the Union, and that many of them have sworn never to support for office any Union man." These are the men who rejoice at Democratic victories in the North, and for whose return to power the Democratic party is now struggling.

GEN. SHERMAN'S VIEWS.—The Democracy may derive some consolation from the following words uttered by Gen. Sherman at a meeting of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, lately held in St. Louis. Speaking of the burdens entailed upon the country by the war, he said:

"We of the North have to mourn the loss of fathers, brothers, sons and friends, and are burdened with a vast national debt, binding on us in fact, in law and in honor; never, I hope, to be questioned by any honorable man in America till every cent is paid."

JOHN W. RIDDLE, was nominated for Mayor by the Republicans at Pittsburg, Monday. McCarthy, the present Mayor, was nominated for Treasurer. Both offices pay well at Pittsburgh.

THE total strength of the army, on the 30th of September, was about fifty-six thousand five hundred.

THE WILL OF JOHN S. BRADY.

John S. Brady, Esq., the eminent attorney, who died in Washington county, this State, a couple of weeks ago, seems to have had a warm friendship for a large number of his neighbors and acquaintances. Before his death he made a will in which he bequeathed them a large portion of his property. Many of the legatees are well known by a number of our citizens. The bequests are as follows, as we learn from the "Review & Examiner," published in that county:

To his sisters, Jane and Hannah Welty, of Westmorland county, he devises lands in Indiana and Westmorland counties, held by him in common with them.

To James Kelley, who has for many years resided on his (Brady's) farm in Greene county, he bequeaths a farm in Monongahela county, W. Va., containing about four hundred acres.

All the rest of his real estate—consisting of a tract of land in Wetzel county, W. Va., containing three hundred acres more or less, a tract in Washington township, Greene county, Pa., containing about two hundred and fifty acres; a tract in South Strabane township, Washington county, containing about two hundred and seventy acres; a tract in Canton township, Washington county, containing about one hundred and thirty-five acres, and occupied by Joseph Potter; a tract in North township, Butler county, Pa., containing about two hundred acres; and all other real estate owned by him and not particularly described, and not otherwise disposed of—he authorizes his executors to sell at either private or public sale, as they may deem best."

"To Alexander Murdoch, Esq., he gives a five acre lot on the Hickory road at the head of Washington borough."

"To Miss Isabel S. McKennan (now Laughlin,) daughter of William McKennan, Esq., he gives a handsome gold watch and chain to be purchased by his executors, and inscribed with the words, 'Memorial from John S. Brady.'"

"To Miss Rebecca Murdoch, daughter of Alexander Murdoch, Esq., five hundred dollars."

"To Miss Anna B. Montgomery, daughter of Robert Montgomery, of Lycoming county, Pa., one thousand dollars."

"To Rev. James I. Brownson, D. D., of Washington, Pa., one thousand dollars."

"To Rev. William P. Harveson, of Pottersville, Butler county, Pa., (now of Amity, Pa.,) five hundred dollars."

"To Miss Ann Valentine, of Washington, Pa., two hundred dollars, in annual instalments of fifty dollars."

"To John S. Brady Hammond, son of Maj. Geo. T. Hammond, of Washington, Pa., three hundred dollars, to be applied to the payment of his education."

"To the United Presbyterian church of Washington Pa., five hundred dollars."

"To the scientific Department of Washington and Jefferson College, established at Washington, Pa., five thousand dollars."

"To Mrs. Jane W. Acheson, wife of Judge Acheson, eight hundred dollars, to be expended by her in the purchase of a silver service set, to be suitably inscribed and kept by her as a memorial of his high regard for her."

"To Jane and Ann McCausland, daughters of his niece, Ann McCausland, of Westmoreland county, one thousand dollars each."

"To his niece, Ann McCausland, five thousand dollars."

"To Alex. Wilson, Esq., in trust, such portion of his law library as his executors may select, as the nucleus of a library for the use of the court and the contributors thereto." [The Court Library authorized by act of Assembly had not been established at the date of the will.]

As a memorial of the long and intimate friendship which subsisted between himself and William Waugh, John D. Chambers, William McKennan and Alexander Murdoch, all of Washington, he bequeaths as follows; To Messrs. Waugh and Chambers each a gold watch and chain, to be purchased by his executors and suitably inscribed; to Mr. McKennan, fifteen hundred dollars, and to Mr. Murdoch one thousand dollars."

"To Ell Harris, and John Keeny, of South Strabane township, this county, both of whom had lived on his farm in that township, as follows: Harris one hundred dollars, Keeny two hundred dollars.

"He directs his executors to purchase a gold headed cane for each John L. Gow, (now deceased,) A. W. Acheson, Alex. Wilson, James Watson, Joseph W. Henderson, David S. Wilson, John D. Chambers, and John H. Ewing, of Washington, and Sobieski Brady of Wheeling, all to be suitably incribed."

"To the Washington Cemetery he bequeaths five hundred dollars to keep his lot in perpetual repair. He also directs that the bodies of his wife and child shall be removed from the old graveyard of this place to said lot."

"After the payment in full of the proceeding legacies, he devises the residue of his estate to his sisters, Jane and Hannah Welty and their representatives—five sevenths to Jane who has five children and, two-sevenths to Hannah who has two children.

His brother Hugh V. Brady, of West morland county, is released from a debt of seven hundred dollars. Beyond this he is silent as to his brother believing as he says that he has a competency. However he directs his executors in case he is mistaken in this belief to make such provisions for the brothers comfort as in their judgement may be amply sufficient.

The will is dated September, 1865, and William McKennan and Alex. Murdoch are appointed executors.

In addition to the above, we may state that it is rumored and genealy believed, that he gave to Miss Lottie Wilson daughter of Major Wm. J. Wilson, for whom he entertained feelings of warm friendship, notes on his executors for the sum of two thousand dollars.

The estate of the deceased is estimated at one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

CONVERSATION.

This is an art in which the French ladies excel; they are always light agreeable, witty, and entertaining. Without wishing that American ladies possessed altogether the qualities of French women, we may desire for them a little more of the French faculties of making themselves agreeable.

Too many of them, when called upon to entertain strangers, sit cold, dull and stupid, unable to start a topic of conversation or answer a question except in monosyllables.

Remember, the art of conversation can be cultivated, and that it is one of the duties of women to cultivate it in order to give the proper tone to society and enliven the domestic circle.

In selecting a subject for conversation chose something that will interest your companion. There is nothing more illbred than to talk much of yourself, your own plans and projects and above all of matters which tend to exalt your own importance.

Listen; well that is to say interestedly to whatever is said to you, a good listener is as valuable as a good talker, and never interrupt persons when they are speaking, or commence repeating something calculated to distract the attention from what he or she is saying.

Avoid subjects in society such as politics or religion, upon which persons are most likely to differ. It is bad taste to assert one's opinion against that of another person, and the yielding of it through politeness might be misconstrued.

It is illbred to use foreign terms in your conversation as it is to whisper to one person when there are others present.

Be careful how you encourage a reputation for saying smart, sharp, or sarcastic things; it will make you both uncharitable and unpopular.

If you venture on a story in company, be sure that it is sharp and to the point.

Never talk upon subjects with which you are only slightly acquainted such as art and artists for instances. It is easy to betray a great deal of ignorance without knowing it.

Make yourself acquainted with current events, current literature, and the topics of the day, in order to converse understandingly about them.

Josh Billings on Gongs.

Josh Billings relateth his first experience with the gong thusly: I never can eradicate holi from mi memory the sound of the fust gong I ever herd. I was settin on the front steps of a tavern in the sitty of Buffalo pensively smokin. The sun was goin to bed, and the hevins for a hour was blushin at the performance. The Ery kanal, with its golden waters, was on its way to Albany, and I was perusin the line botes a flotin by, and thinkin of Italy, (where I used to liv,) and her gondolers and gallus wimmin. My entire sole was, as it were, in a great swet. I wanted to klime, I felt great, I actualy grew. There are things that are tu big tu be trifled with; there are times when a man brakes luce from hisself, when he sees sperrets, when he can almost touch the mune, and feel as tho he kud fill both hands with the stars of hevin, and almost sware he was a bank president. That's what ailed me. But the korse of true luv never did run smoothe (this is Shakspeare's opinion, too.) Just as I was duin my best—dummer, dummer, spat bang, beller, crash, roar, rum, dummer dummer, whang, rip, rare, rally, dummer, dummer, dum—with a tremenjus jump I struck the center ov the sidewalk, with another I cleared the gutter, and with another I stood in the middle ov the street snortin like an Indian pony at a band of music. I gazed in wild despair at the tavern stand, mi hart swelling up as big as a out door oven, mi teeth was as luce as a string ov bedes. I thot all the crockery in the tavern had fell down; I thot ov fenomenons, I thot ov Gabrel and his horn; I was jest on the pint ov thinkin ov somethin else when the landlord kum out on the front stupe of the tavern, holdin by a string the bottom of a old brass kettle. He kawled me gently with his hand. I went slola up to him. He kammed mi fears, he said it was a gong, I saw the kussed thing, he said supper was ready, and axed me ef I would have black or green tea, and I sed I would.

NEWSPAPER GOSSIP.

IT is proposed to hold a convention of editors in the State of Delaware to further and protect the newspaper interests of that State.

A NEW daily has been started at Scranton, Pa. It is issued from the office of the Scranton Weekly Republican, and is well printed and ably edited. Scranton now has seven newspapers; two dailies and five weeklies.

HORACE B. FULLER, of Boston, has purchased Merry's Museum, and will issue it in November in an enlarged form.

THE Pittsburg Presbyterian Banner has been enlarged by changing its form from folio to quarto.

THE Raleigh (N. C.) Register was established in 1799. It is published daily, semi-weekly and weekly.

NEBRASKA has two daily newspapers.

MR. JOHN E. NORCROSS, of Forney's Press, has accepted a position on the State Sentinel, at Montgomery, Alabama.

FOURTEEN of the New Orleans editors were attacked by the yellow fever during its late visit to that city. Only ond died.

THE first newspaper printed in New Hampshire was the New Hampshire Gazette, issued one hundred and eleven years ago. The Gazette still exists, under its original title, in Portsmouth.

THE New York Ledger has now a weekly circulation of three hundred and forty thousand copies, and allowing that five persons read each copy, it has one million seven hundred thousand readers.

THE first newspaper was printed in Virginia in 1780. Its subscription price was $50 per annum. Advertisements of moderate length $10 first week, and $7 50 each subsequent insertion.

GEORGE A. POTTER, of Brooklyn, writes the financial articles for the Round Table.

THE sailors on the receiving ship New Hampshire, lying at the Gosport Navy Yard, edit and publish a paper called the Jolly Tar.

MR. WILKIE COLLINS will take charge of All the Year Round during Mr. Dickens' absence in this country.

THE New York Tribune has over three hundred editors, reporters and correspondents.

OHIO boasts of nine women as editors and assistant editors of newspapers.

THE Galaxy is said to have lost $20,000 within the last two years.

IT is announced that "William Shakspeare,' has sold out his interest in the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Gazette.

THERE are sixty-five newspapers published in Mexico, two in English and one in French—the balance being in Spanish.

All the editors of the "Round Table" are said to wear glasses.

THE correspondent at Washington of the Philadelphia Morning Post is James R. Young, who is also correspondent for the New York Tribune, and brother to John R. Young, managing editor of that paper.

A NEW daily Republican paper is to be started at Harrisburg, Pa., on the second of December.

SAM'L. SINCLAIR, publisher of the New York Tribune, is the largest stockholder in the concern; owning some twenty shares, worth at present valuation, about $122,000.

ON Wednesday, the 15th inst., the North American and United States Gazette commenced its one hundredth volume, and appeared in an entire new dress.

Hon Thaddeus Stevens.

Of the condition of the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, a Washington correspondent writes that it is evident that he is in a decline, mentally and physically. His conversation upon subjects which have long occupied his mind is disconnected and broken with frequent pauses, manifesting a great effort to confine himself to consecutive train of thought. At intervals a gleam of enthusiasm passes over his mind, when he brightens up and utters sentences with vigor and emphasis, but soon relapses into a kind of intellectual torpor. Physically he is greatly emaciated and enfeebled by his recent illness. If Mr. Stevens finds strength to attend the sessions of the coming Congress he will be unable to take part in its proceedings, and it is the general impression that it will be his last session.

ON Wednesday night last some boys, while playing in the vicinity of the Eagle Brewery, near the Outer Depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, found three boxes used in mail cars to hold valuable letters, secreted in a culvert there. All the boxes had been smashed open and were empty. Near by was found an empty envelope, the stamp on it bearing date November 4th. It is supposed that some mail car has been robbed.—Pitts. Paper.

A DISPATCH from Maryland states that the Confederate flag was flung to the breeze in Frederick County when the rebels there received news from the New-York election.

FITZ GREENE HALLECK, the poet, died at Guilford, Connecticut, on Tuesday night, the 19 inst.

A well-known poet sent two poetical letters to the "post-office" of an Episcopal fair at Pittsfield. In one of them the first stanza was:

"Fair lady, whose'er thou art,
Turn this poor leaf with tenderest care;
And hush! oh hush! thy beating heart—
This one thou lovest will be there!"

On turning the "poor leaf" there was found a one dollar bill with some verses, beginning:

"Fair lady, lift thine eyes and tell
If this is not a truthful letter:
This is the (1) thou lovest well,
And naught (0) can make thee love it better (10)."

RALEIGH, November 19.—The election passed off quietly in this city. The negroes behaved with the utmost propriety. Strong military and police forces were stationed at the polls, and paraded the streets all day. About twelve hundred votes were cast, mostly negroes, and all Radicals with two exceptions. The whites will reserve their strength until to-morrow.

WILMINGTON, November 19.—The election passed off quietly. About 1,400 votes were polled, nearly all negroes. One hundred and twenty-five whites voted against the convention. The whites will vote to-morrow almost unanimously against the convention.

THE Parkersburg Gazette editor says he has been requested to designate his preference between the various sewing machines. He answers that he prefers

"One of the kind that a man can love,
That wear a shawl and a soft kid glove,
Has the merriest eye and the daintiest foot,
And sports the charmingest gaiter boot,
And a bonnet with feathers, ribbons and loop.
And an indefinite number of hoops."

VERY DRY JOKE.—In Easton, the other evening, just as a performance in the public hall was about to end, two wags put themselves in front of the door way with an umbrella, and waited for the outcoming crowd. It was not raining, but when the first persons of the audience reached the door and saw the warning umbrella, scores of hands were thrust out, coats were buttoned closely, and dresses taken up while quite a number remained in the hall, refusing to come out on account of the rain. The "sell" was complete.

KINDNESS.—Kind words are looked upon like jewels on the breast, never to be forgotten, and perhaps to cheer the memory along sad life; while words of cruelty or carelessness, are like swords in the bosom, wounding and leaving scars which will be borne to the grave by their victim. Do you think there is any bruised heart which bears the mark of such a wound for you? If there is a living one which you have wounded, hasten to heal it, for life is short—to-morrow may be too late.

"CONTRACTION and expansion are convertable terms, as applied to currency," said an inveterate humorist to a financial friend. The friend, as in duty bound, asked, "How so?" The reply came thus: "You admit that our currency is a debt?" The friend nodded. "Well, then, when you contract a currency you contract a debt; which, I take it, is equivalent to expansion. So you see the two things mean the same thing."

"A MAN at Lindsay, Canada, was fined $5 for cussing the Queen." What a tremendous internal revenue would accrue to the United States if this sum could be collected from every man, (Democrat and Rebels included) who should vent a curse upon the President! The proceeds of a single day's swearing at Andy would well nigh extinguish the national debt.—Chicago Post.

AN inquisitive chap asked a soldier with an empty sleeve "how he lost his arm?"

"In a thrashing machine," answered the soldier.

"Were you running the machine?"

"Well, no; General Grant had charge."

NEARLY every English lecturer or public speaker who now visits this country, devotes about two-thirds of each speech or lecture to a disingenuous apology for, and a sneakingly false explanation of, England's hostile and dishonest conduct towards the United States during the rebellion.

ONE Pound of Gold may be drawn into a wire that would extend around the globe. So one good deed may be felt through all time, and cast its influence into eternity. Though done in the flush of youth, it may gild the last hour of a long life, and form the brightest spot in it.

ON July 1st, 1866, the Southern railroads were indebted to the Government in the sum of over six millions and a half of dollars. To June 30, 1867, they had reduced this to five millions nine hundred thousand dollars.

THE number of superflous letters used by followers of Worcester is illustrated by showing how much may be said with fewer than the authorized allowance: "Dic gav Jack a kic, when Jack gav Dic a noc on the bac with a thic stic."

"MOTHER," said Ike Partington, "did you know that the iron horse has got but one ear?"

One ear? Merciful gracious, child! what do you mean?"

"Why, the engin-eer, to be sure."

A LADY arriving in Washington, espied the dome of the Capital, and inquired, "Is that the gas works?"

"Yes," said a bystander, "for the nation."

The Waynesburg Republican.

WAYNESBURG, PENN'A.

Wednesday, Dec. 4, '67.

We watch eagerly for some sign of business in Congressional movements. True, we can form but inadequate ideas of the extent and speed of their workings, or of the nature of their proceedings. We read of numerous bills tabled, referred to Committees or passed, resolutions offered, fustian indulged in, etc., but for the life of us we can't see its practical bearing. There seems to be a willful heedlessness on the part of many of our legislators in the way they "do" their sittings. It is an enquiry of every one why more decision is not manifest, why the exhibitions of party rancor when calm judgment and wise action is pressing, why the superfluous shilly-shally of investigating committees, all that fills time and takes from the public treasury? Important questions are left undecided whilst the country must listen to the senseless twaddle of coast survey reports, reports concerning the Mississippi levees and much else equally interesting. The financial problem must be solved and that, too, before long. Reconstruction is being rapidly worked out. Our revenue and tariff laws must be revised. These duties devolve upon Republican Statesmen, and the people will hold them responsible to a great extent.

GRANT, Sherman and Sheridan, is a triplet dear to the hearts of American freemen. These three heroes of the war have shown that they are in sympathy with those who sustained them. Our admiration for them is unbounded, and though the latter has his whims and dogmatisms his heart is right and he would again march to the sea at the command of loyal millions. The taciturn "silent man" knows his "know" and we are perfectly willing that he should smoke his weed, and drive fast horses. If he wants to be President let him say so, if he don't, we have yet others that will honor the position. "Phil." Sheridan is too much thought of to be harrassed with political honors and doubtless prefers Whittier's eulogy on his ride to Winchester.

"The Virginia Conservatives are discharging their colored employees who voted the Radical ticket. In Richmond. It is stated, six or seven hundred are already thrown out of employment."

We clip the above from the last Waynesburg Republican. If Madame Rumor is not greatly at fault, that paper might have found a subject for its sympathy in the case of the gallant soldier who was discharged the day after the October election, for voting the Democratic ticket, in Waynesburg. Do you understand, neighbor?—Messenger.

We confess not to understand. If our neighbor has a heavy charge in we beg him to out with it. We have no knowledge of the case in point. One such incident did occur in the Fall of '66 but it was a "white man" that was discharged by a "nigger." The darkey stated, that by deceit and lying he had gained the "privelege of eatin, at de fust table and at last one of de boys agreed he might sleep wid him, and den fo' him to vote de Democratic ticket he wouldn't hab him no longer." The darkey, however, was deserving of censure and we by no means intend to champion his cause. The principle is Democratic, the "white man's" prerogative. Though taught it in the school of adversity the negro has no right to retaliate.

THE project of impeachment is spoken of as having fallen into disfavor since the report of the Judiciary Committee. It was never in favor among the great mass of the people. They would be glad to have the obstinate, would-be Dictator removed, but the time it will consume can be much better improved. He has done his worst already and can harm the country no more, in fact, will feel less inclined to, if he is made to know that Congress "dares" and will impeach him should he persist in tantrums. At present he is obedient and will remain so long as the whip is ready drawn.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says, the President message is conciliatory in tone, but it argues that the Congressional plan of reconstruction a failure, and that the country had pronounced against it at the Fall elections. Economy and retrenchment and uniform taxation are recommended as a means to effect the restoration of specie payments.

THEY have had another terrible colliery explosion at Farnsdale, Wales, with victims to the number of 250. The explosion was caused by "fire damp." Over one hundred dead bodies have been removed and the search still goes on. Each and every day is now completely taken up with the funerals, the owners of the mines paying the funeral expenses.

THE people of Pittsburgh are having quite a squabble over the Mayoralty. A half dozen, more or less, want to be Mayor. Somebody is likely to be disappointed and this time we imagine more Republicans than Democrats. It is not strange that dogs fight over bones, nor that a larger bone excites huge quarrels. There is an old fable that tells us about a dog, a bone and a shadow which our city friends should keep in memory.

DURING the recent dry spell fires have been raging in the mountainous, wooded districts. The Alleghenies burned for miles in some parts and the mountains near Uniontown and Morgantown are belted with fire. There will be a great destruction of game and timber.

TICKNOR & FIELDS have published a cheap pamphlet edition of Mr. Dickens's "American Notes," written in 1842, on occasion of his former visit here. They do it for the sake of circulating a book much talked of, and little known.

THE trial of Jefferson Davis has been postponed to the 22d of March, in order that Judge Chase may preside. This arrangement has been made by the desire of the counsel on both sides.

THERE are numerous wars in South America, but nobody knows just how many there are, nor what they are all about.

BAPTIST COLLEGE.

There will be a meeting of the Trustees and Building Committee of the College, at Jefferson, Greene county, Pa., on FRIDAY, THE 5TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1868, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of letting the contract for the construction of the College Edifice. All the Trustees and Building Committee are earnestly requested to attend, as the contract to construct the building will positively be let on said day. All the Stockholders and friends of the institution are requested to attend. The specifications of the building will be in the hands of the Rev. A. J. Collins, of Jefferson, Greene county, Pa., for inspection, after the 16th inst. The time and manner of payment to the contractor for the construction of the Edifice will be made known on the day of sale. A. A. PURMAN,

Chairman.

ALLEN, Larkin and Gould, the convicted Fenians, were executed at Manchester England on November 23. Although expected, no disturbance took place.

Shocking Nitro-Glycerine Explosion.

On Monday evening a terrific explosion of Nitro-Glycerine, occurred at South Bergen, near Jersey City, by which nine men were blown to atoms, and many others injured. One of the workmen named Thomas Burns, engaged in blasted on the new railroad to Newark, carried a bucket of this explosive material into the blacksmith shop for the purpose of heating it. Being of a resinous gummy quality, it is necessary to reduce it by heat to a liquid state before it is fit for use. Burns, it is stated, grasped a red hot iron, and with a view of expediting the process, plunged it into the bucket, when in an instant the unfortunate man with all the inmates of the building were blown away, and of the house not a fragment remained. Some of the men around the shop shared the same fate, while at the same instant a shock like an earthquake shook every building within at least a mile and a half from the scene. Every house adjacent was damaged; three were completely shattered. Two of the unfortunate men whose names swell the list of the dead were on the roof of a house putting on a patent tin roof when they were carried away with the upper portion of the building.

DR. MARTIN, President of the Agricultural College at Morgantown, reported as follows, in some remarks at Martinsburg, in regard to its condition: Last September the first term of school opened, and now there are in attendance one hundred and fifty students and the number is daily increasing. The expenses of the Institution are very light, $3,50. per week, including board, room, rent and fuel in the College Building. Tuition is from $3,50 to $8 00 per term, according to the branches taught. In the military department the students are all taking a deep interest. Provided by the State with Springfield rifles, they drill one hour a day four times a week. The President says this military drill and physical exercise is already beginning to tell on the students, in their manners, habits, movements and general appearance.

As was expected, Lindsay, the negro speaker in Richmond, did not make the reported incendiary speech attributed to him. It appears that he was only repeating the language of the Examiner, which had said that the streets of Richmond would run with blood, and then said that if that issue was forced upon them by the whites, they (the blacks) must meet it. The report that Gen. Schofield apprehends trouble from the negroes of Virginia has no foundation whatever, as he is known to regard them as being as peacefully disposed as at any time since the war closed.

"THE SOLDIER'S FRIEND."

An incident lately occurred on one of the New York and Jersey City ferry-boats which is illustrative of more than one trait in General Grant's character.

General Grant lately paid a visit to West Point, and being desirous of avoiding that greatest of nuisances to a modest man like himself—the overcivility of the people along his route—traveled incognito; not exactly in disguise, but dressed so differently from his usual habit that he was recognizable to but few. But our artist, Mr. Jewett, had made during the war too many portraits of the General to be deceived by a change in his wearing apparel, and at a glance recognized in the shaded face the features of the "first General of the age."

While General Grant remained in the cabin of the boat he was approached by one of those disabled veterans who are employed, or who employ themselves, in selling the newspaper known as "The Soldier's Friend," a journal, by-the-way, of unusual merit aside from its charitable object, and a copy was laid on his knee. The General, recognizing and admitting the claim of the disabled veteran on his aid and charity, drew from his pocket a $5 greenback and quietly handed it to the much astonished soldier. The latter was in doubt what to do until the General, with a nod, dismissed him. As he turned away, the soldier, observing his friend more closely, recognized his old leader, and would have spoken; but a glance from the General silenced him and he bowed and passed on.

Very few persons on the boat noticed the incident or recognized the General, the incognito was not generally penetrated, and General Grant had the satisfaction of getting through New York without one of those involuntary ovations which the people every where pay him, and which are so very disagreeable to his retiring nature. The modesty of General Grant is as excessive as it is genuine. In his manners, dress, and style of living General Grant displayed during the war more republican simplicity than any other general officer of the army, and maintains the same customs still. In manner he is very unassuming and approachable, and his conversation is noticeable for its unpretending, plain, and straightforward style. There is nothing declamatory nor pedantic in his tone or language. His rhetoric is more remarkable for the compact structure than the elegance and the finish of his sentences. He talks practically, and writes as he talks; and his language, written and oral, is distinguished by strong common-sense. He dresses in a careless but by no means slovenly manner, and wears no article which attracts attention except the three stars which indicate his rank,—Harpers Weekly.

A strict count shows that under the most favorable circumstances not more than forty votes out of one hundred and ninety can be relied upon in the House in favor of impeachment. Of this number several are said to be doubtful, and should the tone of the forthcoming message of the President be decently moderate, many who are now inclined listen to arguments urging impeachment will throw their voices and influence against it.

SEVERAL more battles have taken place in Crete, and again prove the determination of the insurgents to hold out to the last. It is likely that now, after the marriage of the King of Greece with a Russian princess, foreign aid will not much longer be withheld from the heroic Cretans.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 29.—Further election returns from the interior districts render it almost certain that the Convention is defeated, as the total vote polled falls short by many thousand of the requisite majority of the registered voters.

IMPEACHMENT REPORT.

The majority of the Judiciary Committee, to whom the impeachment question has been referred, have as you were informed by telegraph yesterday reported in favor of impeachment and, their report discloses the following facts viz:

An unconstitutional usurpation of the power on the part of the President to orgmize and recognize civil State Governments; the denial of the right of Congress to control the work of organization, and the exercise of power and omission of duties in support of this usurpation and denial; the wilful and unconstitutional assumption of power to suspend the operations of the acts of congress, and the corrupt wilful and unconstitutional refusal to execute the laws; the unauthorized and illegal surrender and sale of Government property, and the fraudulent breach of the public trust, wherein the action of the President in relation to the Southern railroads is detailed at length, and much evidence is given relative to the sale and surrender of railroads and rolling stock, and other property in which it is shown that all this property was turned over against the advice of the Secretary of War, and the Quartermaster General. It is also shown that the President extended the time for the payment of installments of principal and interest on the railroads purchased by the rebel companies. The evidence further shows that at the same time these railroad companies had a sufficient amount of money on deposit to meet their indebtedness. By his connection with the Southern roads it shows that he realized a profit of over eighteen thousand dollars.

The other grounds of impeachment are the corrupt and unconstitutional abuse of the veto power; the abuse of the pardoning power; the surrender of property to the rebels; the disregard of the rights of the property of refugees and freedmen, and of the United States, and the unconstitutional and corrupt exercise of the appointing power. Under the latter head, a vast amount of testimony has been taken relative to the suspension and appointing of civil officers, and, the cause therefore, in direct violation of the law.

The report ends with the resolution:

"Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors."

The reading of the resolution was greeted with an outburst of applause from certain parts of the galleries, clapping of hands on the floor, etc., while counter demonstrations of hissing were also made on the floor and galleries, the Speaker all the time hammering with his gavel to restore order.

Paying Bonds in Greenbacks.

The Philadelphia Ledger comments in this wise on the proposition to pay the Five-twenty bonds in greenbacks: One of the many propositions likely to come before the country touching the finances and the public debt, is that to pay the Five-twenty United States bonds by an issue of greenbacks in their place. Notwithstanding it is apparent that a policy of this character, even admitting that it was at all practicable, which it is not, would be to injure every workingman and woman in the country, there are men claiming to be intelligent who will favor its consummation. It is the pockets of the man or woman who works, in which is found the great bulk of the amount of circulating money. The capitalist hardly carries more money, perhaps not as much, in his pockets as the mechanic keeps no bank account. The capitalist has his warehouse, his dwelling, his mill, his cotton, his wool, and his real property of all kind; he might lose the paper money in his pocket and all his United States bonds, when they were gone he would hold a larger relative proportion of the property of the country than he had before, while the mechanic and the laborer, whose all would be in his pocket or in the saving bank, would lose his all—he would have no property to represent his past labor. Now, to the extent that money is cheapened by an increase of its amount, will those holding it suffer, and as the laboring classes hold the greatest amount, they must necessarily be the severest sufferers. It is desirable to have enough currency to carry on the exchanges of the country—beyond that, currency is not only useless, but absolutely detrimental to the industrial interests. As to paying the 5-20 debt with an issue of greenbacks, the idea is preposterous.

IN North Carolina a convention has been called for by a large majority. The Radicals have secured the larger number of delegates. Few negroes were elected. The Conservatives lost many counties through their indifference.

THE Union Pacific Railroad is now finished 525 miles west from Omaha to the eastern base of the Rocky mountains. The track will be laid to Evans Pass, the highest point between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, in January. The maximum grade is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many Eastern roads is over one hundred.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

MONDAY, November 25.

SENATE.—The Senate convened at 12 M. A petition that equal suffrage be extended to all persons in the District of Columbia, was referred to the Committee on the District. The joint resolution looking toward the refunding of monies paid in excess of duties on imported wool as as adopted. The resolution ordering the immediate payment into the treasury of all money received from the sale of captured or abandoned property, was laid over and ordered to be printed. A resolution requesting the President for official information in reference to our relations with North Germany was adopted. The resolution instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to examine into the expediency of reducing the military force was adopted. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill prohibiting the further reduction of the currency was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means. The credentials of J. S. Golladay, of Kentucky, were referred to the Committee of Elections. The Houre then proceeded to the call of States for bills and joint resolutions for reference, which were red twice and referred to their appropriate committees. The resolution in reference to the treatment of American citizens abroad was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. The resolution directing that no committee shall travel or examine witnesses at the public expense was adopted. The Speaker then directed the Judiciary Committee report on the impeachment question. The majority and minority reports were read and laid on the table, and ordered to be printed; the whole subject being made the special order for Wednesday of next week. A resolution declaring it inexpedient to purchase further territory was adopted. Adjourned.

TUESDAY, November 28.

SENATE.—Memorials in reference to the tax on cotton were taken up and referred. A memorial and bill to prevent the mustering out of Generals Sickles and Howard were referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. A bill relative to the appointment of an Assistant Attorney General was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. The resolution requesting the President for any correspondence with Mr. Motley not heretofore communicated was adopted. The joint resolution that the Senate and house adjourn on Monday next at 11½ A. M. was adopted; soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.—A resolution directing General Grant to communicate any correspondence between him and the President in reference to the removal of Secretary Stanton; also any correspondence showing the condition of the Fifth Military District; also all correspondence relating to the Baltimore Police commissioner, and also the correspondence in reference to General Sickles, was adopted. On motion, the Committee on Freedmen's Affairs was directed to ascertain and report whether any reason existed for discontinuing the Freedmen's Bureau beyond the time limited by law. At the request of the member from Iowa, Lafayette C. Baker was ordered to be discharged from custody. A memorial praying for the repeal of the cotton tax, to operate back to the first of September, was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means. The respective committees were called for reports, but the Judiciary report in the case of Stephen F. Cameron was the only one ready and it was laid on the table. At 2½ o'clock the House went into Committee of the whole on the state of the Union. At 4 P. M. the House adjourned.

Odd Fellowship in the United States.

The report of the Grand Secretary of the Order in the United States has just been issued. He reports the membership at the present time to be 217,886, there having been an accession the past year of 33,764 members. The receipts for the past year have been $1,965,713,01, of which $1,760,-123,56 were from bodies under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, and $505,593 45 from bodies under the jurisdiction of the Grand Encampment. The total relief dispensed in the same time was $690,675 97, of which $626,729 25 were by bodies under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge. The relief dispensed by the bodies under the jurisdiction of the Grand Encampment was $64, 855 12.

THE Fayette County Teachers' Institute, will be held at New Salem, on the 24th instant. Lectures upon various subjects will be given by Professor S. S. Jack, of Westmoreland county, A. B. THE Memphis Avalanche says that "we hope soon to chronicle the day when the last of the seed sown on Plymouth rock shall have perished upon the spot of its origin." When such a day, shall be chronicled, American civilization will have departed and American progress been blotted out.

It is generally believed Mr. Greeley will not accept the position of Minister to Austria, for which he was confirmed by the Senate and that the President will tender it to ex-Senator Foster, of Connecticut.

THE Partridge colliery near Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, is on fire from an explosion of "damp." An incautious examination of its condition on Wednesday resulted in an explosion fatal to three men. Nothing but flooding the mine will now extinguish the fire.

GEN. GRANT says that he would be much obliged if the politicians would let him alone.

Weston the Pedestrian.

A man by the name of Weston, has undertaken for a wager of ten thousand dollars, to walk from Portland, in Maine, to Chicago, Illinois, a distance of 1,276 miles in 26 days. He also undertakes to walk 100 miles in 24 consecutive hours, the time and place to be his own selection, and in case of failure in this undertaking he forfeits four-fifths of the bet ($4,000). He failed to make the one hundred miles; but reached Chicago. He walked 1,-276 miles in less than twenty-six walking days. Such a task would probably have killed the most powerful horse; but the man has thrived under it. He has averaged fifty miles a day for a stretch of one month at a time, and could, to all appearances, continue his trip to the Pacific at the same rate of travel. He has done what no man ever attempted before, and deserves honor for the persistency he has displayed in his undertaking. An account says Mr. Ingalls, who accompanied Weston, is completely worn down with exhaustive fatigue, although he rode the entire distance, and says he would not repeat the trip for $10,000 in gold. Weston, however, seems never to be tired, no, matter how far he has walked, or how bad the roads are, and what is still more singular, never perspires.

THE funeral procession in honor of the Fenians who were recently hung in Manchester, England, came off in New York on Thursday, and was a most imposing spectacle. About five thousand Irishmen formed in column, four deep, and marched through the principal thoroughfares, attended by three hearses, each containing a coffin, on which was inscribed the name of one of the executed men. The procession halted in Union Square, where orations were delivered, extolling the heroism of the martyrs and the cause for which they died. Superintendent Kennedy refused to furnish a police escort to the managers of the affair, on the ground that he could not order his officers to attend a procession gotten up in honor of the murderers of policemen.

JEFFERSON DAVIS arrived at Richmond on Friday of last week on the New York steamer, and is stopping at the house of his counsel, Robert Ould. Davis left Canada on Tuesday, November 19, and, to avoid attracting attention in New York, went on board the steamer Albemarle at her sailing hour, nine o'clock on Wednesday night. He was unaccompanied by any one. On his arrival in Richmond he took a coach and drove to Judge Ould's house. No one expected his arrival at the time—not even his counsel. His lawyers deny that they have any intention of resisting a trial before Judge Underwood. Davis is in excellent health, and is quite cheerful. Many sympathizing rebel friends called upon him to welcome him in their midst.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The attention of our readers is specially directed to the following advertisements, which appear for the first time in our paper to-day.

Register's Notice—P. Brown.
Valuable Sale—D. & E. Adams.
Notice in Bankruptcy—Otho Wade.
Notice in Bankruptcy—Wenman Wade.
Great Bargains—M. C. & H. Bell.]

THE MAIL CONTRACTS.—We publish the routes the second time on our fourth page of to-day for the benefit of those who think of making proposals. The person making the proposal must do so in the following form:

PROPOSAL.

The undersigned — — —, whose post office address is ——, county of ——, State of ——, proposes to convey the mail of the United States, from July 1, 1868, to June 30, 1872, on route No.——, between —— and ——, under the advertisement of the Postmaster General, dated October 31, 1867, with "celerity, certainty, and security," for the annual sum of —— dollars.

This proposal is made with full knowledge of the distance of the route, the weight of the mail to be carried, and all other particulars in reference to the route and service, and also after careful examination of the laws and instructions attached to the advertisement.

Dated (Signed)

This proposal must be accompanied by a guarantee of which the annexed is a copy:

The undersigned, residing at ——, State of ——, undertake that, if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail on route No —— be accepted by the Postmaster Gen'l the bidder shall, prior to the 1st day of July, 1868, enter into the required obligation or contract to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties.

This we do, understanding distinctly the obligations and liabilities assumed by guarantors under the 27th section of the act of Congress of July 2, 1836.

Dated (Signed by two guarantees.)

In addition to this a certificate from the Postmaster, where the guarantore reside, must be appended. This certificate is as follows:

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, postmaster at ——, State of ——, certifies, UNDER HIS OATH OF OFFICE, that he is acquainted with the above guarantors, and knows them to be men of property, and able to make good their guarantees

Dated (Signed.)

The acceptance or non acceptance of these proposals will be announced on the 31st day of March, 1868.

A PROPOSITION.—It is well known that our Borough is something like twenty five hundred dollars in debt, and, as is now urged by some parties with regard to the national debt, is inclined to pay neither principal nor interest. By the sale of what is known as the "town commons," seventy-five or a hundred acres of land in the limits, a sufficiently large sum could be realized to pay the debt and have an overplus that might be judiciously expended in sundry improvements about the town. The land is mostly in position for excellent building sites and would be readily taken up at good prices. It has ceased to answer the purpose for which it was designed, having been willed to the poor for pasturage by Isaac Slater when he sold the land. The pasturage is now a plentiful yield of dog fennel. To accomplish this, the property-holders must give unanimous consent or we must pray legislative action. We shall speak of this again. This will set you to thinking, favorably, we hope.

FROM DUNKARD.—Correspendent "I," of the Pittsburgh Commercial, writes as follows to that paper from Carmichaels, under date of Nov. 23, 1867: Mining operations have been suspended for some time at the shaft of the Amber Gold Mining Company. It is rumored that gold bearing quartz has been found, specimens having been exhibited by the workmen. The shaft is closed, and it is impossible to get accurate information, as the operators will not admit any one.

The production of oil still continues about the same. Mr. Robert Maple, the patriarch, concluding that "it is not well for man to be alone," has recently been united in the bonds of wedlock to a widow lady of Morgantown, West Virginia. Mr. Maple is far on the "silver side" of eighty, and his partner is of very mature years. Though we can hardly expect "long life," yet we unite with her friends in wishing "much happiness" to the proprietor of "Maple Farm" and his bride.

WHERE'ER I take my walks abroad, how many poor, miserable Dyspeptic people I see, who would be healthy, and rosy, and happy, if they took Plantation Bitters, that paragon of preparations for giving tone to the stomach, energy to the torpid liver, a joy to the nervous system, and strength to the muscles. It is an admirable regenerator of nature's wasted or neglected functional powers in either man or woman It gently excites and pleasantly soothes. With a bottle thereof, every man may be his own physician.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet article—superior to Cologne and at half the price.

The robber Time, that steals the sweetness from fruits and flowers, is baffled by Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus" Its aroma is less perishable than that of foreign extract, essence or toilet water, and incomparably more delightful.—Hartford Courier.

DISCHARGE IN BANKRUPTCY.—Albert Culbertson of Monongahela City, Washington county, whose liabilities amounted to near $200,000, and who filed his petition under the Bankrupt Law, July 3rd 1867, received his discharge from all debts, from the District Court of the U. S., at Pittsburg, on the 29th of November. This is the first discharge granted in this Judicial District. Several other cases are nearly ready for final action, among them that of Wm. S. Calohan, of Washington county, whose petition was filed July 31st 1867, liabilities $150,000.

COMING IN TOWN—All the time. That raked coal from Ten Mile Works.

JOSEPH COOK, P. M.

SLEIGH BELLS were heard on our streets for the first time Monday last. Ten Mile was "skatable" but a change of temperature and fall of rain threatens to spoil all.

THAT SHUTTER.—The panel of latticing still is on the Court House roof. Who takes care of the building? "Who owns that Court House?"

THE Philadelphia National Refreshment Saloons, where the soldiers from every part of the Union were fed during the late war were an honor to Philadelphia, and there is a peculiar propriety in the circumstance that Philadelphia should inaugurate a plan for the endowment of a National Institute, where the orphans of these same heroes may have a home and receive an education. This is what the Trustees of the Riverside Institute are aiming most successfully to accomplish. Acting under the Charter of the Washington Library Company, incorporated by the State of Pennsylvania, they are offering stock at the low rates of one dollar per share, and will give to each subscriber a beautiful and valuable steel engraving, worth at retail more than the price of the stock, and as an additional inducement will distribute among the stockholders, presents valued at $300,000. In the distribution every one has an equal chance to obtain large presents; one is worth $40,000, another $20,000, &c. Who can refuse to do a patriotic and benevolent action on these terms.

DECISION REVERSED.—The long silence in regard to the Boot and Shoe business has, perhaps, induced our readers to decide that we have no place in the village where such merchandise is kept and sold. We wish to correct the thought and to assure you that M. C. & H. Bell, have on hands the very creme de la creme of all that is nice and serviceable in that line. You will find their prices, and themselves agreeable. See advertisement.

THANKSGIVING was generally observed by the suspension of business. Dr. Miller delivered an excellent discourse in the forenoon at the Presbyterian Church. The day was unfavorable for any kind of sport, but our "festive cusses" wound up in the evening with a big drunk. Such days are priveleged to a great extent, by some, which will account for no arrests, even had it been possible to find a sober officer.

COAL DELIVERED.—I will attend to orders for, and insure the prompt delivery of choice coal from either the Camp Ground or Ten Mile Works. Large contracts at reduced rates.

GEO. S. JEFFERY,
Telegraph Office.

NOTICE.—The books and Notes of the late firm of Call, Roberts & Co., at Call's Mill, will be left in the hands of Jas. Call, Esq., on and after Saturday the 7th inst., for collection.

WE call especial notice to the advertisement of the Sale of Valuable property in town by the Executors of Robert Adams, dec'd.

MISTAKE.—We made a small mistake of a thousand dollars in noticing the purchase by R. W. Downey, Esq., of the Wilson property It should have been $3515 instead of $2545 as stated.

BRUISED.—Mr. H. C. Sayers was thrown and fallen on by his horse Sunday morning last, and severely bruised on the left side and shoulder. Moral; don't ride on horseback.

STILL IN MOTION—And kept moving. The choice coal at Ten Mile Works.

GRANT CLUB.—An organization has been formed by the progressive spirits of our party and will meet Saturday evening next at the office of Esquire Rinehart. Come and bring your friend. Heavy work ahead calls for every man.

ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Mr Isaac Biddle, of Carmichaels, was severely injured recently. He missed his footing stepping the sleepers in the second story of the new church being erected there, and falling was severely bruised. We hope for his speedy recovery.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—We have received this magazine for December. The number is fully equal to any that we have seen. We would advise our friends to subscribe for this popular magazine. Ticknor & Fields, Pubs., Boston.

"OUR SCHOOLDAY VISITOR"—Certainly bears the palm of being not only the cheapest and best, but absolutely the handsomest of all the Periodicals for the Young Folks, that we have seen. The January number for 1868, the first number of the twelfth volume, is already upon our table. It is beautifully printed, and embellished with quite a number of fine engravings; its list of contents is throughout, a rich feast of good things from some of the best writers our country affords, and the whole is neatly bound in a tinted cover, printed in color.

We advise all the boys and girls to send at once for a sample copy, which will be sent, with full instructions about subscribing or forming clubs, for 10 cents, and see what a bright, wide-awake, cheerful companion it would make for the coming winter evenings. Price $1,25 a year or $1 to clubs. Address, J. W. Daughaday & Co., Publishers, 424 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE Morgantown Post says, they are paying but six cents a pound for fresh pork. Our butchers are charging twelve cents. Isn't it an extortion?

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

The Pittsburgh Commercial, of Thursday, November 28, 1867, says the cattle market was not a very active one. There was but little animation manifested among dealers. The sales, however, were larger than the previous week, whilst the extreme prices were a shade higher than last week. The weather being warm for the season, together with a good deal of country dressed meat coming in, had no doubt something to do with operations. The current rates were: Prime retailing cattle $7 00@7 62 ₱ cwt.; fair to medium, $6 00@6 50; common, $3 50@4 50 ₱ cwt. Hogs the market was dull. The sales were restricted at a decline in prices of 25c per hundred.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

MONDAY, Dec. 2, 1867.

The markets have been very dull during the past week, and at the close there was no sign of any amendment. Prices of most articles are unsettled and generally a trifle lower than they were one week ago.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise noted:

NEW YORK DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, December 2.—Prices are steady. As goods generally are pretty low, there is no particular change to observe.

THERE are three sorts of folks in the world—yes, four. Those who know one thing; those who know everything: those who know nothing, and those who glory in it. The first are the hobby riders—the one idea men; the second are the quacks; the third are the unbelievers in the second and the fourth are unalloyed fools—twenty-two carats fine.

MEDICAL.

DR. WHITTLESY.

DR. F. WHITTLESY, Physician for Chronic Diseases, has a permanent office in Washington, Pennsylvania, where he has been engaged for the past twelve years in the successful treatment of all DISEASES OF A CHRONIC NATURE.

The Doctor might present a volume of certificates of cures, complimentary notices, &c., but the most satisfactory testimonial will be given the public in a trial of his skill. Dr. W. devotes exclusive attention to Chronic Ailments, in which his practice has been uniformly successful, effecting cures in many cases that have baffled all other systems of treatment.

Paralysis, Rheumatism, Bronchitis, Catarrah, Deafness, Diseases of the Spine, Stomach, Heart, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Lungs, Female Diseases, General Debility, &c., &c.,

Are all promptly and permanently cured by the Doctor's system of treatment. During the past few years, the Doctor has registered hundreds of cures to which he will be pleased to give those references who may call upon him. He invites all afflicted with any form of Chronic disease and having failed to obtain relief, to

GIVE HIS MEDICINES A TRIAL.

His principal agents are selected entirely from the Vegetable Kingdom, and these are so combined as to equalize the vital forces of the body and thereby restore it to perfect health. The Doctor has been especially successful in the treatment of all

FEMALE DISEASES.

Women by the score fall victims to maladies peculiar to their sex, many of whom might be saved from lives of wretchedness and premature graves by applying in time to Dr. W. The remedies employed in the practice of Dr. W. are manufactured exclusively by him from his own Medical Laboratory and are always pure in quality and specific in effect. Dr. W. diagnoses disease by means of the Urine, the only infallible test of disease, never failing to discover its nature, locality and curability, thus enabling him to employ a

RATIONAL, SCIENTIFIC AND CURATIVE TREATMENT.

Of the absolute certainty of his mode of diagnoses he can satisfy every patient who gives him a trial, from the urine alone he will tell accurately all that can be known of any disease. In the examination of this secretion, he employs optical, chemical and microscopical tests, no case being presented in which one of these tests is not sufficient to an accurate diagnoses. The Doctor does not claim to be a "cure all," nor yet "the right arm of the Almighty stretched forth to save the world from premature dissolution," but he does profess from scientific acquirements and

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE,

Devoted exclusively to the treatment of chronic ills, with his infallible tests of disease, to be able to relieve and permanently cure all those cases which are not already beyond the reach of remedies.

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nansook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 20 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It have perfect feel whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "puckering," and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a fell in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Tucking, &c., are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

Careful instructions given at the house of the purchaser.

Money refunded if the machines are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.

1868 PROSPECTUS! 1868

THE PITTSBURG GAZETTE,

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the "Gazette" have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size of the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week, forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE, are, by common consent, acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their present ones to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a weeks news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and merchants are requested to act as agents.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

Singe subscriber	$1 50
Clubs of five	1 25
Clubs of ten	1 15

—and one to the getter up of the club.

The following is the article on the elective franchise, as finally adopted by the reconstruction Convention as part of the new Constitution:

SEC. 1. Every male person born in the United States, and every male person who has been naturalized, or who has legally declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, twenty-one years old or upwards, who shall have resided in this States six months next proceeding the election, and three months in the country in which he offers to vote, except hereafter provided that no soldier, or sailor, or marine in the military naval service of the United States shall hereafter acquire residence by reason of being stationed on duty in this State.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide from time to time for the registration of electors, but the following classes of persons shall not be permitted to register vote or hold office:

1st. Those who, during the late rebellion, inflicted or caused to be inflicted any cruel or unusual punishment on any soldier, or sailor, marine, employee or citizen of the United States, or who in any way violated the rule of civilized warfare.

2d. Those who are or may be disfranchised by the proposed constitutional amendment known as the 14th article and the act of Congress passed March 2d, 1867, except such persons as have aided the plan of reconstruction proposed by Congress and accepted the political equality of men before the law; provided, the General Assembly shall have power to remove the disabilities incurred under this clause.

3d. Those who shall have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, or a crime punishable by law with imprisonment in the penitentiary, or bribery.

4th. No idiot or insane person shall be permitted to register or vote in the State.

SEC. 3. That all persons before registering, must take and subscribe to the following oath: "I do solemnly swear or firm, that I will support and maintain the Constitution and Laws of the United States and Constitution and Laws of the State of Alabama. That I am not excluded from registering by any of the clauses in Section 2d of this article. That I will never countenance or aid in the secession of the State from the United States. That I accept the civil and political equality of all, and agree not to attempt to deprive any person or persons on account of race, color, or previous condition of any political or civil right, privilege or immunity, enjoyed by any other class of men, and furthermore that I will not in any way injure or countenance in others, any attempt to injure any persons on account of past or present support of the Government of the United States, the laws of the United States, or the principles of the political and civil equality of all men, or of affiliation with any political party."

Joe and Bill Beaton went to New Orleans with a flatboat of corn. Joe wrote to his father thus:

Nu Awleens, Gune 1st.

"Dear Dad—Market is dull and corn is low, and Bill's dead also."

BOOK AGENTS WANTED—

TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR A NEW ILLUSTRATED

BIBLE DICTIONARY.

(COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME.)

This DICTIONARY embodies the result of the most recent study, research and investigation, of about sixty-five of the most eminent and advanced Biblical Scholars now living. Clergymen of all denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every Bible reader in the land.

In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous objections which are usually encountered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this.

But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the Agent, making his labors agreeable, useful, and lucrative.

Ladies, retired Clergymen, School Teachers, Farmers, Students, and all others who possess energy, are wanted to assist in canvassing every town and county in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered.

THE LATEST & BEST CHURN!

One of the latest Patents, issued on the 11th day of September, 1866, to Wm. R. McCutcheon, of Washington, Iowa, will be on exhibition in a few days at in Waynesburg, Pa. This CHURN must supercede anything of the kind heretofore produced. The simpleness of its construction, and its two-fold or reversed motion, that produces butter from three to six minutes must induce the community to examine its qualities. It saves time—it saves work—and produces as much butter as any churn in existence. Mr. Munnell has full power to sell rights for Pennsylvania or New York State as well as to furnish Churns to citizens of this county.

JOHN MUNNELL'S,
